The Shadow Over Innsmouth (□□□□□□) - Howard Phillips Lovecraft 2011-09-15
This early work by H. P. Lovecraft was originally published in 1936. Born in 1890 in Rhode Island, USA, Lovecraft began writing at a very young age, quickly developing a deep and abiding interest in science. In 1913, Lovecraft joined the UAPA (United Amateur Press Association) but it was four years later, in 1917, that he began to focus on fiction, producing such well-known early stories as 'Dagon' and 'A Reminiscence of Dr. Samuel Johnson'. However, it was during the last decade of his life that Lovecraft produced his most notable works, such as 'the Dunwich Horror' and 'The Call of Cthulhu' which subsequently earned him his place as one of the most influential horror writers of the 20th century. Many of the earliest books, particularly those dating back to the 1900's and before, are now extremely scarce and increasingly expensive. We are republishing these classic works in affordable, high quality, modern editions.

Literature and Evil -

Georges Bataille

2012-10-04

'Literature is not innocent,' stated Georges Bataille in this extraordinary 1957 collection of essays, arguing that only by acknowledging its complicity with the knowledge of evil can literature communicate fully and intensely. These literary profiles of eight authors and their work, including Emily Brontë's Wuthering Heights, Baudelaire's Les Fleurs du Mal and the writings of Sade, Kafka and Sartre, explore subjects such as violence, eroticism, childhood, myth and transgression, in a work of rich allusion and powerful argument.

7 Tales of the Paranormal:1: Lady of the Forest - On the 3rd of September 1939 a German truck convoy reached Częstochowa, and the following morning it entered the Pauline Monastery at Jasna Góra and took possession of a holy relic, the Black Madonna. It was to be transported directly to Berlin - the convoy never reached its destination.2: The Sign of the Cross - it is estimated that the Catholic Church is responsible for the abduction of up to 300,000 babies in Spain alone. This unholy act, sanctioned by the Vatican, did not end after General Franco's death in 1975, but continued through to the 1990s - this is the story of one young man's search for his abducted, new born, baby brother - with unexpected and dire consequences.3: Beneath the Waters - history does not accurately record how many women and children were slaughtered by the Catholic Church, but estimates range from 100,000 to possibly even 2 Million - it was during those dark days that a mother and daughter were slaughtered at the hands of a Witchfinder General, one was drowned, the other burned alive at the stake - but their spirits never left, now they have re-emerged to exact their revenge.4: Mélusine - the last Magdalene Laundry closed in 1996. Though they were predominantly in Ireland, a few existed in England. From the 18th century these institutions incarcerated over 30,000 young women and girls - this is the story of one young girl's incarceration in one of these institutions and the horrors she had to endure, until she decided to take matters into her own hands and the truth of her incarceration emerges, with devastating results.5: The Boleskine House - once owned and occupied by the satanist and occultist Aleister Crowley; it is documented that he carried numerous rituals within its walls. So when a musician, his girlfriend and two studio operators decide to use the location to record a new album and celebrate Christmas; little did they know that during one particular ritual an evil entity was evoked and was never sent back.6: The Divine Flame - based on true events, a family in a dilapidated council estate, is terrorized by a restless spirit searching to exact retaliation on those responsible for its death.7: The Glebe - what is mutilating and savagely killing victims in the woods of a small sleepy village? A small team sets out to discover the cause, what they find and what they discover, will shake the very foundation of their own fears.

Oscar Predest is a prominent child psychiatrist specializing in hypnosis. When his son Tobias goes missing, Oscar abandons his whole life to find him. After countless failed searches, Oscar is approached one night by a woman with an unusual request – an invitation to her son's exorcism. Surprised to hear a "specialist" has been solicited from the Vatican, Oscar attends the ceremony only to find that the voice possessing the boy recognizes him. This voice reveals itself as the spirit who once inhabited the man who murdered Oscar's son. Alongside Lauren, the detective who led the search for his missing son, Oscar investigates the crime on another, paranormal front. What they find, in this spiritual autopsy, is a murderer with a mysterious history, which in turn leads Oscar back to the possessed child, Ryan. Through hypnosis, Oscar manages to speak to the spirit. These therapeutic sessions are as explorative as they are dangerous. But Oscar needs to know more about the conventions of this alternative world of reincarnated spirits. It opens doors of impossibility never imagined by Oscar or the Vatican specialist, Father Bosco. As Oscar inches closer and closer to this forbidden tree of knowledge, Father Bosco, the exorcist from the Vatican, begins to exhibit strange behavior, with visible, physical injuries. What results is an apocalyptic finale between good and evil in the reincarnated world, shedding new insight into the controversial theories of predestination and reincarnation, where Oscar, Father Bosco, Ryan, Lauren, Theresa, and even Nathan's spirit, encounter findings of an extraordinary nature.

PAPA`S PARANORMAL TALES

- Wyn La Bouchardiere

2018-02-23

A heady mix of paranormal tales from India to give the reader goose-bumps, handed down verbally from generation to generation.

Supernatural sightings of female demons, disguised as lovely women, set out to lure unsuspecting young men to their death. Reincarnated spirits born again, ghostly apparitions of dead relatives, haunted houses, grave robbers and spooks arising from their tombs at the stroke of mid-night, local superstition and myths form part of the anecdotes. These collected stories, were always related to pass the time before going to bed in the days when there were no TVs or cyber activities to serve as distractions. The narrator often was the family patriarch and the audience were generally family members and any visiting guests. The selected settings for listening to the stories were ideal –

either on house terraces
or front yards of homes
amidst the dark shadows
of the palms and other trees lit only by starlight or moonlight.
Silence reigned except for the occasional sounds of the hooting of resident owls from abandoned old houses
adding to the eerie atmosphere.

The Hatred of Music -

Pascal Quignard

2016-03-28

Throughout Pascal

Quignard's distinguished literary career, music has been a recurring obsession. As a musician he organized the International Festival of Baroque Opera and Theatre at Versailles in the early 1990s, and thus was instrumental in the rediscovery of much forgotten classical music. Yet in 1994 he abruptly renounced all musical activities. The Hatred of Music is Quignard's masterful exploration of the power of music and what history reveals about the dangers it poses. From prehistoric chants to challenging contemporary compositions, Quignard reflects on music of all kinds and eras. He draws on vast cultural knowledge—the Bible, Greek mythology, early modern history, modern philosophy, the Holocaust, and more—to develop ten accessible treatises on music. In each of these small masterpieces the author exposes music's potential to manipulate, to mesmerize, to domesticate. Especially disturbing is his scrutiny of the role music played in the concentration camps of Nazi Germany. Quignard's provocative book takes on particular relevance today, as we find ourselves surrounded by music as never before in history.

No Exit - Charlotte Kuchinsky 2013-10-09
The paranormal feeds the imagination, sparks the mind and stirs the soul. That is why a lot of people are fascinated with the concept. Some believe in ghosts, fairies, unicorns, leprechauns and other unseen creatures. Others hold a fear of vampires and werewolves or insist that zombies exist. Some hope that time travel is possible so that they can someday right a mistake of their past or see what their future holds. Others simply need to believe there is life on other planets. It soothes them to know that humans are not alone. Whether or not the paranormal is real is a topic for scientists and other great minds to debate. In the meantime, the rest of us will console ourselves with stories that just "might" have some basis in reality.

The Age of Surveillance Capitalism - Shoshana Zuboff 2019-01-31

THE TOP 10 SUNDAY TIMES BESTSELLER Shortlisted for the FT Business Book of the Year Award 2019 'Easily the most important book to be published this century. I find it hard to take any young activist seriously who hasn't at least familiarised themselves with Zuboff's central ideas.' - Zadie Smith, The Guardian The challenges to humanity posed by the digital future, the first detailed examination of the unprecedented form of power called "surveillance capitalism," and the quest by powerful corporations to predict and control us. The heady optimism of the Internet's early days is gone. Technologies that were meant to liberate us have deepened inequality and stoked divisions. Tech companies gather our information online and sell it to the highest bidder, whether government or retailer. Profits now depend not only on predicting our behaviour but modifying it too. How will this fusion of capitalism and the digital shape our values and define our future? Shoshana Zuboff shows that we are at a crossroads. We still have the power to decide what kind of world we want to live in, and what we decide now will shape the rest of the century. Our choices: allow technology to enrich the few and impoverish the many, or harness it and distribute its benefits. The Age of Surveillance Capitalism is a deeply-reasoned examination of the threat of unprecedented power free from democratic oversight. As it explores this new capitalism's impact on society, politics, business, and technology, it exposes the struggles that will decide both the next chapter of capitalism and the meaning of information civilization. Most critically, it shows how we can protect ourselves and our communities and ensure we are the masters of the digital rather than its slaves. Car-Nex - Terry M. West

The year is 1537, and the country is divided between those faithful to the Catholic Church and those loyal to the king and the newly established Church of England. When a royal commissioner is brutally murdered in a monastery on the south coast of England, Thomas Cromwell, Henry VIII's feared vicar general, summons fellow reformer Matthew Shardlake to lead the inquiry. Shardlake and his young protégé uncover evidence of sexual misconduct, embezzlement, and treason, and when two other murders are revealed, they must move quickly to prevent the killer from striking again. Les Initiés (Les Dimensions de l'esprit 3) - Dima Zales 2016-03-07

Voici la suite passionnante de la série des Dimensions de l'esprit par un auteur de bestsellers au classement du New York Times et de USA Today. Kidnappé. Conscience élargie. Et ce n'était que le début de ma journée. J'ai toujours cru être un type assez sympa. Du genre qui ne voudrait jamais tuer quelqu'un. Apparemment je manquais juste de motivation. Certains crimes ne peuvent jamais être pardonnés.

Mais la jeune femme découvrira à ses dépens que dans cette ville maudite, il y a certaines choses qu'il vaut mieux taire. En poussant Félix-Olivier à parler, Simone a réveillé l'entité maléfique qui dormait en lui et maintenant, plus rien ne peut l'arrêter... Histoire basée sur un fait vécu.

Simulacron-3 - Daniel F. Galouye 2021-06-08

Part of the exclusive new CAEZIK Notable line of books. In the 1960's, before anyone had even conceived of the concept of virtual reality, before computers were even in main-stream thought, Daniel F. Galouye imagined the unimaginable. In doing so, he wrote one of the most influential science fiction books of the day, and one that continues to not only influence modern writers but continues to resonate with science fiction readers everywhere. He conceived of a world that exists only virtually...one of the first stories about virtual reality. This is Matrix, decades before Matrix was conceived.

Douglas Hall is part of a team that builds an artificial environment to simulate reality. This enables them to get public opinion polls without waiting for the opinions of people around them. But then something goes terribly wrong and his partners on the program start disappearing. But is it a simulated disappearance, or is someone out to get them all? And what is the true nature of reality? Stories based on Simulacron-3 have been adapted for both television and movies, and the book is considered a favorite of many of the masters of science fiction.
