Medical Language - Melodie Hull 2013

A scenario unfolding throughout the text introduces you to crucial terms and commonly used words and phrases as you follow each patient through assessment, treatment, and recovery/rehabilitation. Content differentiates between medical terminology--formal vocabulary used in practice--and medical language--commonly used words and phrases communicated among patients and informal settings with your peers. A special code in the front of the book gives you exclusive access to The Medical Language Lab, a new, interactive online experience that ensures you master the language of medicine. Automatic grading and reporting to Gradebook. See an example of the Gradebook here. "Right Word or Wrong Word" boxes build your word-differentiation skills. Exercises, including identification, fill-in-the-blank, multiple-choice questions, and short answers, encourage you to take notes, problem solve and use new vocabulary and skills. "Memory Magic" helps you with mnemonic devices and "word-a-day" challenges "Career Spotlight" offers insights into the many healthcare professions. "Focus Point" provides additional detail about specific terms used in the scenarios. "Word Building" gives formulas for creating words with the combining form. Critical-thinking questions encourage you to express your opinions about what you've learned. Creative writing exercises let you practice using terms from each chapter to write about a topic of your choice. Suggested websites give you access to professional discussion boards and video clips to further your knowledge.

The Rhetorical Leadership of Fulton J. Sheen, Norman Vincent Peale, and Billy Graham in the Age of Extremes - Timothy H. Sherwood 2013-08-15

Fulton J. Sheen, Norman Vincent Peale, and Billy Graham were America's most popular religious leaders during the mid-twentieth century period known as the golden years of the Age of Extremes. It was part of an era that encompassed polemic contrasts of good and evil on the world stage in political philosophies and international relations. The 1950s and early 1960s, in particular, were years of high anxiety, competing ideologies, and hero/villain mania in America. Sheen was the voice of reason who spoke against those conflicting ideologies which were hostile to religious faith and democracy; Peale preached the gospel of reassurance, self-assurance, and success despite ominous global threats; and Graham was the heroic model of faith whose message of conversion provided Americans an identity and direction opposite to atheistic communism. This study looks at how and why their rhetorical leadership, both separately and together, contributed to the climate of an extreme era and influenced a national religious revival.

McGraw-Hill's International Energy Outlook: North and South America - 1982

The McGraw-Hill Author's Book - McGraw-Hill Book Company
1968

By Its Cover - Ned Drew 2005-08-11

We all know we're not supposed to judge books by their covers, but the truth is that we do just that nearly every time we walk into a bookstore or pull a book off a tightly packed shelf. It's really not something we should be ashamed about, for it reinforces something we sincerely believe: design matters. At its best, book cover design is an art that transcends the publisher's commercial imperativesto reflect both an author's ideas and contemporary cultural values in a vital, intelligent, and beautiful way. In this groundbreaking and lavishly illustrated history, authors Ned Drew and Paul Sternberger establish American book cover design as a tradition of sophisticated, visual excellence that has put shape to our literary landscape. By Its Cover traces the story of the American book cover from its inception as a means of utilitarian protection for the book to its current status as an elaborately produced form of communication art. It is, at once, the intertwined story of American graphic design and American literature, and features the work of such legendary figures as Rockwell Kent, E. McKnight Kauffer, Paul Rand, Alvin Lustig, Rudy deHarak, and Roy Kuhlman along with more recent and contemporary innovators including Push Pin Studios, Chermayeff & Geismar, Karen Goldberg, Chip Kidd, and John Gall.
