A DOOR TO THEIR HEARTS - Jeannine Miceli Martin 2018-07-21

Growing up in a Sicilian family with most of its members born and raised in America, Jeannine was eager to grasp a deeper understanding of her true heritage, not the Americanized version. She'd known that her maternal grandparents, Giuseppe Ferro and Angela Luca, had immigrated to the United States to Waltham, Massachusetts, where her mother was raised, but she hadn't known from where, why, or when they'd arrived. She'd begun her quest for answers on Ellis Island, and from there, her grandparents' journey had become her journey as she'd traced their paths by going to Sicily herself to learn about their lives there and what made them leave. To her surprise, Jeannine found more than their childhood villages of Ucria and Bronte. She'd discovered more Ferro cousins in Ucria. When Jeannine found a door, she'd enlisted the help of the New England Historic Genealogical Society for a quick lesson in ancestry research, which led her as far back as her three-times-great-grandparents. From that point, she built her family tree and returned to her cousins in Ucria to experience her true authentic heritage. Through legal documents, she'd followed her grandparents and other Ferro ancestors who emigrated to Waltham with them and chronicled the changes in their family lives in America, not necessarily for betterment. She'd learned from medical transcripts of a dramatic twist in her grandfather's life as a patient in an insane asylum. While Jeannine had opened the door to her ancestry, she'd bridged a gap between the Ferro family of the past and present and the miles between Ucria and Waltham.

Transferee Liability - Ellen S. Brody

"... analyzes the rules of [section] 6901 and related judicial interpretations. Beginning with a general discussion of transferee liability and its development from the so-called trust fund doctrine, the Portfolio distinguishes between transferee liability in equity and liability at law. The liability of a transferee at law or equity for the tax of the transferor is governed by state law and in some cases by federal statutes. The liability of the transferor is determined under the Internal Revenue Code. Section 6901 does not create a separate liability for the transferee; instead, it provides a regime to facilitate collection by the IRS from a third party of the tax due from the transferor and to permit the third party/transferee to contest the IRS determination in the U.S. Tax Court. The Portfolio also discusses the liability of a fiduciary under 31 U.S.C.

[section] 3713(b) and the application of [section] 6901 to this type of liability"--P. (iii).

Land Use Problems and Conflicts - John C. Bergstrom 2013-05-13

The causes, consequences and control of land use change have become topics of enormous importance in contemporary society. Not only is urban land use and sprawl a hot-button issue, but issues of rural land use have also been in the headlines. Policy makers and citizens are starting to realize that many environmental and economic issues have the question of land use at their very core. Comprising papers from a conference sponsored by the Northeast Regional Center for Rural Development, Land Use Problems and Conflicts draws together some of the most up-to-date research in this area. Sections are devoted to problems in the United States and Europe, the consequences of such problems, land use-related data and alternative solutions to conflict. With a lineup including some of the best scholarship on this subject to date, this volume will be of use to those studying environmental and land use issues in addition to policy makers and economists.

Enhancing the Regulatory Decision-Making Approval Process for Direct Food Ingredient Technologies - Institute of Medicine 1999-04-29

The Institute of Medicine's (IOM's) Food Forum was established in 1993 to allow science and technology leaders in the food industry, top administrators in the federal government, representatives from consumer interest groups, and academicians to discuss and debate food and food safety issues openly and in a neutral setting. The Forum provides a mechanism for these diverse groups to identify possible approaches for addressing food and food safety problems and issues surrounding the often complex interactions among industry, academia, regulatory agencies, and consumers. On May 6-7, 1997, the Forum convened a workshop titled Enhancing the Regulatory Decision-Making Process for Direct Food Ingredient Technologies. Workshop speakers and participants discussed legal aspects of the direct food additive approval process, changes in science and technology, and opportunities for reform. Two background papers, which can be found in Appendix A and B, were shared with the participants prior to the workshop. The first paper provided a description and history of the legal framework of the food ingredient approval process and the second paper focused on changes in science and technology practices with emphasis placed on lessons learned from case studies. This document presents a summary of the workshop.
