The Book of Letters - J Mutter 2014

'The Book of Letters' is an exciting new approach to examining the letters of the alphabet used for English, showing the reader that there are 'sounds' built into many letters that have been inherent for hundreds of years. There has been a lack of information regarding how to say words from text, and why we say words the way we do. The word example for example, has a sound between the consonants in the second syllable. Where does it come from? How do we say this word the way a native speaker would do? 'The Book of Letters' examines this, provides the answers and offers students of the language a method of learning to say them in an understandable way. It is different to any previously published available work in that it uses traditional sound representation combined with a simpler and more understandable system, to show sounds that have hitherto been ignored or at best poorly represented. The novelty here is that it approaches an academic subject, in a light-hearted readable style. The book covers every aspect of alphabet letters as written for English to include their history, shape, varieties, sounds, uses, and the consequence of joining one letter with another.

Getting Started with Markrah Letter-Row Puzzles Random Words #3 - 2020-12

This is the third of the Markrah Getting Started with Letter-Row Puzzles books. It introduces a new type of word puzzle, the Letter-Row Puzzle, for anyone who enjoys working with words and challenging their puzzle solving abilities. The puzzles start with the smallest puzzle grid (20 cells) and easiest puzzles and continue to the largest grid (146 cells) and most difficult puzzles. The object is to enter all the words in the word list into the puzzle grid. Words start in shaded cells, can be spelled in both directions and can overlap with other words. A puzzle's difficulty is based on the number of overlapping letters in words, the number of words being spelled in different directions and the number of words in the list. There are two other sets of Letter-Row Puzzle books that follow the same pattern. One set of books, Letter-Row Lite, contain only 20 cell puzzles. The books in the other set of Letter-Row Puzzle books contain 50 puzzles with 146 cell grids and contain words from a variety of categories.

My First Word Search - Eden Greenberg 2014-12-19

When children learn letter sounds, they're on their way to becoming readers. And the more fun they have as they learn, the faster their skills will grow! These word searches turn learning letter sounds into a game. Each puzzle presents just one letter or sound, like "baby" and "plate" for LONG A; "city" and "dance" for SOFT C; and "jab," "jam," and "jelly" for J words. Adorable line drawings add to the appeal. And, of course, the completed word search appears at the back—just in case new readers need a little help!
